QUARTERLY 3

"The International Court of Justice's (ICJ) advisory opinion on climate change is a game-changer, making it clear that every nation has a legal option to fight climate change and can be held accountable for inaction."

– Pradip Burman, Chairman, Mobius Foundation

7th International Conference on Sustainability Education (ICSE) - 2025

The International Conference on Sustainability Education (ICSE) 2025 was successfully held on September 17–18 at the India Habitat Centre, New Delhi. With the theme "Sustainability Education for Green Jobs," the event focused on equipping youth and professionals for emerging green careers and climate-resilient futures.

The conference opened with a formal ceremony featuring addresses by key leaders from the organizing and partner institutions. The keynote speech was delivered by a global voice on sustainability and education, followed by remarks from national and international guests. The Chief Guest concluded the session with an encouraging message on India's green future. A heart-warming welcome song performed by students of GAV School, set a hopeful and positive tone for the proceedings.

Over the two days, plenary sessions examined how education can drive sustainability and employment, with discussions on technology, green skills, and innovation. These were supported by a practical workshop on green job skills and two interactive SAMVAADS to foster dialogue and collaboration.

Notable sustainability influencers Dr. Purnima Devi Barman, Aalekh Kapoor, and Anuj Ramatri also brought youth perspectives and innovation into the spotlight.

ICSE 2025 stood out as a valuable platform for turning ideas into action and aligning education with the needs of a sustainable future.

Legal Symposium - Advocating Change: From Climate Justice to Climate Action

The Mobius Foundation recently organized a legal symposium titled “Advocating Change: From Climate Justice to Climate Action” on September 24, 2025, at Bharat Mandapam, New Delhi. The event centered on the recent advisory opinion issued by the International Court of Justice (ICJ), which reaffirmed that climate change presents an “urgent and existential threat” to people, ecosystems, and future generations. The symposium explored the opinion’s wider implications for global climate accountability, highlighting the legal obligations of states under international law and its potential to catalyze stronger climate action across the world.

The gathering brought together a diverse mix of journalists, legal experts, advocates, and policymakers to discuss both international and domestic legal challenges in the realm of environmental law and policy. The event was chaired by Hon'ble Justice Mr. Prakash Shrivastava, Chairperson of the National Green Tribunal (NGT). Special remarks were delivered by Honourable Chief Justice Antonio H. Benjamin, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Justice, Brazil; Ms. Urmi Goswami, Assistant Editor (Climate Change & Environment), The Economic Times; and Mr. Jatinder Jay Cheema, Barrister & Solicitor, Advocate, and Author, Chambers of Jay Cheema. The session was moderated by Ms. Jessica Gill, Programme Lead, Mobius Foundation.

The symposium served as a dynamic platform for legal and policy dialogue on climate justice, attracting students, delegates, and professionals from related sectors. Participation certificates were distributed, encouraging ongoing engagement at the intersection of law and climate action.

Umeed 2.0 - Multi-District Implementation

Umeed 2.0 advanced family planning interventions across seven districts—Shravasti, Balrampur, Unnao, Gonda, Bahraich, Barabanki, and Sitapur—through a mix of community outreach, capacity building, and institutional engagement. Key activities included Refresher Training of Trainers in Lucknow for master trainers from seven districts, covering rights-based counselling, FPCC tools, and early marriage norms; CHO and facility staff training with study materials, flipbooks, and demo kits; and mobile van SBCC campaigns in Sitapur, Unnao, Barabanki, and Bahraich, offering FP counselling to 8–10 individuals per village, distributing condoms, pills, and IEC materials, and engaging communities through games and quizzes.

Glimpse from CHO Training Sessions

FPCCs were launched and inspected in multiple districts, with strong institutional ownership observed. New motivators like "Counsellor of the Month" and "Best CHC Award" were introduced to drive quality. AI-based adolescent education sessions (SnehAI) were held in schools in Barabanki and Jarwal, promoting health and relationship dialogue. Additionally, Block Coordination Committee and inter-departmental meetings helped review SBCC campaigns and reinforce adolescent and family planning awareness. District-level engagement with CMOs and ACMOs ensured continued support and visibility for the initiative.

Umeed 1.0 - Jarwal Block - Key Interventions

In August and September 2025, Umeed 1.0 intensified its efforts to strengthen family planning awareness and service uptake in Jarwal block through targeted community outreach and capacity-building activities. Key interventions included a School Chatbot AI training session, orientation for PRI members to engage local leaders in promoting family planning, and refresher trainings for ASHAs and frontline workers. Field Facilitators played a crucial role in supporting VHND sessions and SBCC campaigns across 118 villages, addressing important themes such as early marriage, spacing methods, and gender equality. A Health Mela was also organized, providing on-site services and counselling to community members. These initiatives collectively enhanced community engagement, expanded contraceptive awareness, and reinforced partnerships with local governance structures to drive sustainable behavioral change.

Project Launch - Saran, Bihar

The Aakar Project was officially launched in Saran District, Bihar, in the presence of key representatives from the Mobius and Janani teams, including Dr. Ram Boojh, Ms. Banajyotsna Baruah, Mr. Aryan Banerjee, Mr. Richard Boustred, and Dr. Ram Kumar Parker. Government officials such as Dr. Sagar Dulal Sinha (Civil Surgeon), Mr. Arvind Kumar (DPM), Dr. Suman Kumar (DIO), and Ms. Aarti Tripathi, UNICEF. The event featured ceremonial lamp lighting, keynote addresses, the unveiling of the Aakar Mobile Van, and two street plays promoting population stabilization. It concluded with a placard-led procession by nursing staff to raise community awareness.

Field Visit - Sitapur

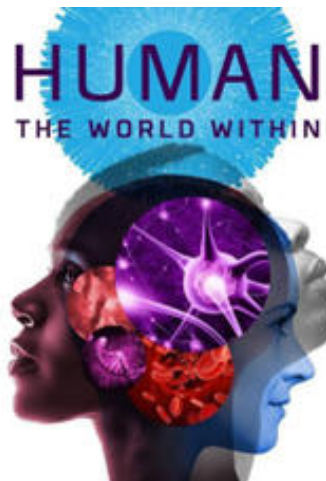

Dr. Ram Boojh and Mr. Aryan Banerjee from Mobius Foundation attended a BCC meeting in Khairabad, chaired by BDO Neeraj Dubey, with participation from key departments including Health, PRI, Education, and ICDS. Emphasis was placed on collaborative efforts for family planning and adolescent health. The SBCC van "Itni Bhi Kya Jaldi Hai" was flagged off to raise awareness on child marriage and FP. At Ashodar School, the van engaged students and frontline workers through interactive media and Q&A sessions, with prizes awarded to participants.

Wisdom Hour

Human: The World Within:

is a science documentary series that explores the extraordinary inner systems of the human body and how they shape our everyday experiences. Blending personal stories with scientific insights, the series reveals the complex interactions between our brain, heart, immune system, senses, and other vital functions. It showcases how these internal processes respond to the world around us—powering emotions, reactions, endurance, and even life itself. With stunning visuals and real-life narratives, the documentary offers a fascinating look at the biology that connects us all and drives what it means to be human.

10 Billion (2015):

explores the urgent challenges humanity faces as the global population approaches ten billion. The documentary highlights the increasing strain on natural resources—such as water, energy, food, and land—and questions whether our planet can sustain this growth. It serves as a stark warning about the consequences of overconsumption and environmental neglect, urging viewers to reconsider current lifestyles, systems, and policies in order to secure a sustainable future.

Daughters of Destiny:

is a documentary series that follows five girls from India's Dalit caste as they grow up at Shanti Bhavan, a school that offers free education, housing, and support to children from poor and marginalized backgrounds. Over several years, the film shows how these girls work to overcome poverty, discrimination, and family pressure while striving for a better future. The series highlights both the power of education and the emotional challenges of trying to break free from deeply rooted social barriers.

SUNGANGES

follows a journey through India to uncover the links between vanishing rivers, pollution, and the country's growing energy demands. The filmmakers examine how coal and hydroelectric projects harm the environment and communities, while also highlighting the promise of solar and wind energy. Through real-life stories and striking visuals, the film encourages a shift toward cleaner, more sustainable power sources.
